INFORMASJON:

Denne uken starter konkurransen Mattelabbens Mester. Den varer i 3 uker. Elevene får jobbe litt med det på skolen, og så får de lekser til to dager hjemme. Disse to dagene får de ta cromebooken med seg hjem. De får også lov til å ta cromebooken med seg hjem de andre dagene dersom de skal jobbe ekstra (som er helt frivillig) med Mattelabbens Mester. Cromebooken skal ikke brukes til andre ting.

Mandag 9/11 får vi besøk av Å energi som skal snakke om brann og el-sikkerhet. De er her fra 0900-1100. Vi er sammen med 5. og 6. klasse på musikkrommet da.

Jeg minner om konferansetimene på mandag og tirsdag. Jeg blir på møterommet (ved siden av rektors kontor).

Breaking news from down under

Shark attack off the Gold Coast

A group of friends aged 18 to 20, were victims of a terrible shark attack just off the Gold Coast in Australia. The group of friends were having a late-night swim at Duranbah Beach, on Tuesday afternoon. Luckily nobody has died, but two of the victims remain in hospital with severe injuries. One of the victims, Adam Watson, aged 19, was badly injured in the attack, and a spokesperson for the hospital says there is still the possibility his leg might need to be amputated. The status of the other victim is unknown. The shark is still on the loose, and people around Duranbah Beach have been asked to stay out of the water until further notice.

Giraffe escapes Sydney Zoo

Jenny, the 9-year-old giraffe, has escaped from Sydney Zoo. On Monday, Jenny was spotted in central Sydney, chewing on trees in Bicentennial Park. Jenny is not dangerous, but it is not known how she escaped or why. She has been spotted all over social media, in photographs with tourists and locals. Mr Adamson from Sydney Zoo said, "Jenny is one of our prized treasures. Everyone loves her and she is treated very well. I'm not sure how or why she escaped. She seems to be enjoying her time being a tourist in Sydney though." Well, perhaps she will head to the Sydney Opera house next!

Wildfires spread across Australia

Many parts of Australia have been devastated by deadly wildfires; some of the worst the country has ever seen. Huge fires have been tearing through forests, woodland areas and national parks, and people have been forced to evacuate from their homes.

Local firefighter, Rob Burrows says, "It's devastating to see, and the worst thing is, this is only just the beginning. These wildfires make you realise just how real climate change is!"

A variety of aircraft and helicopters have been vital in the attempt to stop the wildfires. The helicopters will fly low and release hundreds of litres of water with great force. While they are doing an amazing job, this is only enough to keep the wildfires at bay, but not enough to stop it happening again in the future.

Spectator wins historic 100 m gold at the Tokyo Olympics

On Sunday we saw a mere spectator win gold in the men's 100 metre final. Just before the race began, the spectator was spotted jogging towards the track from the stands. When the gun went off, the spectator was seen sprinting alongside the competitors. Australian born, Martin Lind, won the race with a final time of 9.07 seconds. The Olympic board and other competitors do not believe the gold should be allowed as he was not supposed to be in the race to compete. Whereas spectators around the world are gobsmacked and impressed, using the hashtag #RunLikeTheLind
